Marines Beat Suicide Attack Of Red Troops

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American warplanes pounded North Viet Nam Friday with the greatest number of missions of the war, the U.S. command announced today.

The command said no U.S. planes were lost in heavy raids, the second time this week American pilots set a record for strike missions.

It said U.S. pilots, hitting fuel depots and other military targets, flew a record 156 missions, 10 above the previous high that was reached only last Wednesday. U.S. planes hammered the Communist north with 133 missions Thursday.

In Friday's record assault, more than 300 transportation vehicles and water craft were attacked by Navy pilots who flew 73 of the missions.

An Air Force spokesman said Air Force jets attacked touched off more than 35 secondary explosions and 25 fires in strikes on supply storage areas, convoy staging points and fuel dumps in the southern panhandle of North Viet Nam.

Earlier reports said U.S. planes had knocked out 40 barges near Thanh Hoa.

Aground, U.S. Marines beat off an attack by hordes of Red suicide troops south of the demilitarized zone. The Marines fought the enemy hand-to-hand from tents and sandbag emplacements around their camp.

Reports from the field indicated the Marines killed possibly 50 of the North Vietnamese attackers while taking light casualties in a three-hour battle Friday at Cam Lo. The Marine tank and artillery position, firing support for other Leathernecks, held.

The Marines said the attackers all had explosives strapped to their bodies. Some ripped off their trousers to tie back barbed wire as they came screaming at the Leathernecks.

Johnson Marks 58th Birthday In Texas Hills

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, refreshed anew by a speechmaking, handshaking tour of the West, celebrates his 58th birthday today in familiar surroundings — Texas hill country.

Johnson reached the LBJ Ranch Friday night after a brisk one-day tour of Idaho, Colorado and Oklahoma highlighted by an appeal to the Soviet Union to join with American efforts to end the danger of nuclear devastation.

Although the President also made major speeches at Denver, Colo., and Pryor, Okla., he attracted the most attention at the National Reactor Testing Station at Arco, Idaho, where he called for the development of confidence between the United States and the Soviet Union.

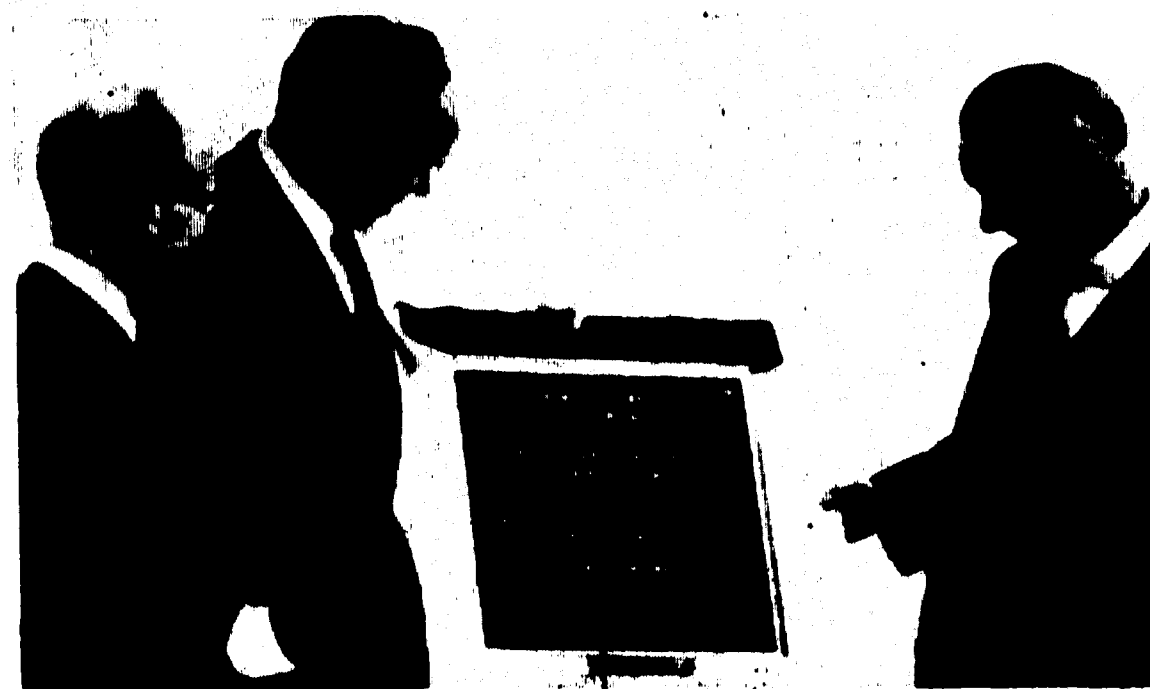

"The dogmas and vocabularies of the cold war were enough for one generation," Johnson told an estimated 10,000 persons at Arco, "the world must not founder in the backwaters of old and stagnant passions."

"For us that real test is not to prove which interpretation of man's past is correct; our real test is to secure his future," he said. "And our purpose is no longer only to avoid a nuclear war; it is to enlarge the peace."

Besides his major addresses, there were a lot of little talks in such places as Pocatello, Idaho, Tulsa, Okla., and Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Friday's trip was billed as nonpolitical, as was a three-day presidential jaunt last weekend through New England and New York State. And as he did last week, Johnson brought along both Republican and Democratic members of Congress with him from Washington. Other congressmen joined up along the route.

The President was accompanied during the long day by Mrs. Johnson. Here and there crowds shouted, "Happy birthday" or burst into impromptu renditions of "Happy birthday to you."

Would Boost Base Wage To $1.60 For 1968

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed its version of minimum wage legislation that would extend the law's coverage to at least seven million more workers and boost base pay from the present $1.25 to $1.60 an hour.

The Senate version, approved by a 57-17 vote Friday, now goes to a conference with the House. The House approved a similar bill 303-93 last May 26.

Sponsors said they are confident the conferees will be able to come to agreement quickly on a compromise version.

The Senate action was a substantial victory for President Johnson, who has pushed the bill, and also promised to give the AFL-CIO its first major success of the 89th Congress.

A Senate filibuster earlier this session killed the AFL-CIO's top-priority item — a measure that would have repealed section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act. The section allows states to ban the union shop.

The minimum wage bill won the votes of 42 Democrats and 15 Republicans on final passage. Opposed were eight Democrats and nine Republicans.

Up To Conference

Conferees on the bill will have to decide whether to make the new $1.60 wage floor effective Feb. 1, 1968, as the Senate voted and Johnson asked, or a year later as the House stipulated.

They also must act on a Republican amendment inserted in the bill Friday over strong opposition that would reduce coverage of the bill by 185,000 workers.

The amendment, sponsored by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., provided that coverage of retail stores, hotels, motels, restaurants and some other businesses would extend in 1969 only to those doing more than $350,000 in annual business. It passed on a 41-34 vote.

The House bill, following the administration position, would include those doing $250,000 or more in 1969.

Coverage In 1967

Both versions would cover such enterprises next year if they do $500,000 or more of annual business.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen sought to prevent any extension of coverage below the $500,000 level but lost on a 41-11 tie vote. This would have knocked out coverage of 987,000 employees.

The bill would provide for three different wage schedules:

— For the 29.6 million employees now covered by the law, plus 665,000 nonfederal service federal employees brought in by the bill, the floor would go to $1.40 next Feb. 1 and then to $1.60 either in 1968 under the Senate version or in 1969 under the House.

Farm Workers

— For the 390,000 farm workers covered by the bill, it would start at $1 next year and then go up in four annual 15-cent steps to $1.60 in 1971.

The new coverage provisions, considered by some sponsors the most important in the bill, would bring under the Wage and Hours Act for the first time some farm workers, as well as employees of hotels, motels, restaurants, laundries, taxicab companies, hospitals, and transit companies.

CAB Keeps Hand Off Fares Pending Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board indicated today that it will take no immediate action to bring about the air fare reductions urged last week by chairman Gardner Ackley of President Johnson's Council of Economic Advisers.

In an interview, CAB Chairman Charles S. Murphy told The Associated Press that:

— The board's study of the airlines fare structure — to have been completed before the end of this year — was delayed by the six-week strike against five airlines until early next year.

— The board has decided to permit the trunk airlines to continue until next April 23 the temporary extra charges for jet services as well as the "Discover America" excursion fares.

The added fares had been scheduled to expire Dec. 31.

Murphy said the "implication of these developments is that one need not expect any major move on the part of the board to do anything about fares until results of the fare structure study are in and more experience has been gathered on excursion fares and jet surcharges."

Ackley said at the end of the machinists' walkout that the council regretted that the strike settlement substantially exceeded the council's guideposts for wage boosts.

He added: "Fortunately, in this particular case, the excessive settlement will not require higher prices to air passengers or shippers."

"The high rate of productivity advance which has characterized the airline industry, and is expected to continue, means the airline fares can continue to trend downward, despite this excessive settlement."

Airline fares over the years have developed in haphazard fashion.

Dissidents To Trek In Cicero

CHICAGO (AP) — A dissident group of Negroes headed by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s landmark open housing agreement with Chicago officials as a setback and said they would stage their own march Sunday in the tense all-white suburb of Cicero.

King called off his Cicero march Friday after he and city leaders agreed on a 10-point program aimed at opening all-white neighborhoods to Negroes.

A spokesman for the dissatisfied group, the West Side Organization, called King's actions "a betrayal and I call it treason."

King presented the program to more than 1,000 jubilant Negroes and civil rights workers in the Stone Temple Baptist Church in the heart of the West Side Negro ghetto Friday night.

"We've come a long, long way," said King. "We've crossed the Red Sea right here in Chicago."

Swent running down his face, King said of the march planned by the dissidents: "If they in good conscience feel they must go, they go with my prayers and my blessings."

Railway Strike Pinch Felt In All Of Canada

OTTAWA (AP) — Canadians face a virtually trainless week-end with no action scheduled on the nationwide rail strike until Monday, when Parliament meets in special session to try to get the trains rolling.

Key industries say layoffs will be necessary if the strike lasts more than a few days. Grocers predict food prices will go up. The nation's $5 billion annual mining and newsprint industries began immediate stockpiling.

Canadian newsprint industry officials estimated that domestic and U.S. customers had enough supplies on hand to last 10 to 35 days.

A spokesman for International Nickel Co. of Canada Ltd., the world's largest nickel producer and Canada's largest copper producer, said there "are bound to be some delays in delivery," adding that layoffs would be necessary if the strike does not end quickly.

The strike was called by four unions representing 118,000 employees of eight railroads serving nearly 50,000 miles of track. Eleven smaller railroads are unaffected.

The striking workers, who earn an average of $2.23 an hour, are seeking wage increases averaging 30 per cent and have rejected a wage settlement of 18 per cent over two years, as recommended by three different conciliation boards.

Mondale Offers New Bill To Aid Cleanup In Lakes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was asked Friday by Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Minn., to attack the pollution problem in lakes.

In introducing a bill to authorize grants to states to develop better methods of removing wastes and sediments, Mondale said a pollution epidemic is smothering the nation's lakes.

The President was accompanied during the long day by Mrs. Johnson. Here and there crowds shouted, "Happy birthday" or burst into impromptu renditions of "Happy birthday to you."

No Business On Road

High Pointers Drove 10 July 4 Death Cars

DETROIT (AP) — At least 10 drivers blamed for fatal accidents in the state over the Fourth of July weekend "had no business on the road," the Auto Club of Michigan said Friday.

The 10 averaged 16 points each under Michigan's driver-grading system. One had 26 and another's record showed three drunken driving convictions.

Under the point system, accumulation of 12 points within two years is supposed to lead to a conference with a state official and possible suspension of a driver's license.

There were 29 fatal accidents in Michigan during 78-hour holiday weekend. The auto club said 21 drivers involved were considered at fault.

In a 17-page report on the weekend issued Friday, the Auto Club said:

— Sixteen victims died within 25 miles of their homes and all but four of the dead were within 40 miles of home.

— None of the dead was wearing a seat belt.

— Only one of the 29 drivers involved was a woman.

— No obvious mechanical defects were found in any of the cars, although four had poor tires and this could have been a factor in one of the smashups.

— Thirteen of the crashes were single-car crashes, probable causes:

— The drivers fell asleep, were speeding, were drinking too much.

The driver with 36 points had been called in by the secretary of state's office four times for examinations, the Auto Club said. Another driver had 22 points and a third had 20.

The 10 high-point drivers had been involved in a total of 13 previous accidents, the report said.

But the report also said Michigan drivers did a better job over the Fourth than during the 78-hour Memorial Day weekend.

Although the 33 million cars on state roads during the July period represented a 5 per cent increase, a check of seven State Police posts showed injury accidents were cut by nearly 50 per cent.

Constantini Is Asking Recount

KALAMAZOO (AP) — State Rep. Homer Arnett, R-Kalamazoo, suffered a net loss of two votes in his attempt to reverse his Aug. 2 primary election defeat by Dr. William Weber, the Kalamazoo County Clerk's office reports.

Arnett lost the Republican nomination to Weber by 91 votes according to prerecount figures of the elections division of the secretary of state's office.

A recount of 14 precincts and two absentee ballot counting boards cost Arnett four votes and Weber two. The four lost votes are charged against Arnett's total, but Weber's official total remains the same.

Other recounts are due.

State Rep. William Thorne, D-Deerborn Heights, is trying to make up his 33-vote deficit in his race with Alex Pilch of Deerborn.

Richard Kuhn of Birmingham is challenging the 1,071-vote margin by which Jack McDonald of Detroit won the Republican congressional nomination in the 19th District.

In the 42nd District, Louis Drollet of Niles is fighting to overturn the 23-vote victory of De Forrest Strang of Sturgis.

Rep. James Constantini, D-Iron Mountain, lost the Democratic nomination by 25 votes to Iron Mountain Mayor Jack Gingsburg. He is calling for a recount.

JCs At Muskegon

MUSKEGON (AP) — More than 1,000 Michigan Jaycees and their wives are expected for the annual two-day convention which began here Friday.

Don Asher, national vice president was scheduled to speak at the state banquet Saturday.

Three For Court

Republicans found two more candidates for the Supreme Court at a relatively late hour.

Until shortly before the convention opened the only announced candidate for either of two court seats was Meyer (Mike) Warshawsky, a South Haven lawyer and member of the state Workmen's Compensation Appeals Board.

Wayne County Circuit Judge Thomas Brennan and John O'Hara, a Birmingham lawyer, announced so late that their names did not appear on a mimeographed list of candidates distributed at the convention.

Both were interviewed by Romney before announcing, although the governor insisted he had not bestowed his blessing on any of the three candidates.

Li. Gov. William Milliken appeared unopposed in his bid for renomination, and George Washington, director of the State Department of Administration, appeared sure of nomination for secretary of state.

The nomination would place him in the highest position ever occupied by a Michigan Negro on a partisan ticket.

$115 Returns After 2 Years

DETROIT (AP) — Almost two years ago, William Laws lost his wallet and $115 while hunting deer and antelope near Gillette, Wyoming.

Friday, Laws, 29, of Westland, got a package in the mail. When he opened it, out tumbled his weather-beaten and water-soaked wallet and the $115.

"I cost somebody $1.45 to mail the package," Laws said. "There was no letter or explanation. I'd sure like to know him, and give him a reward."

Electric Heat Rate Reduced

Russell F. Hoyer, president of the Upper Peninsula Power Co., announces a reduction in electric heating rates.

The company's petition for a reduction from 1.75 cents per kilowatt hour to 1.5 cents per kilowatt hour has been approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission and becomes effective for meter readings on and after Sept. 1.

The average reduction, said Hoyer, will be about 9 per cent annually for residential total-electric heating customers, and in the case of a residential heating customer who consumes 20,000 kilowatt hours per heating season the saving will be $50 under the new rate. For total-electric commercial and industrial electric heating customers, this reduction will amount to about 12 per cent annually, he pointed out.

Electric heat is now installed in more than 2 million homes in the United States and the 1970 prediction is over 6 million. There have been over 200 total-electric installations in the 11 county area served by the U. P. Power Co., since the introduction of its electric heating rate in 1964. The new rate represents major savings to present company electric heating customers, Hoyer stated.

Harnischfeger Reports Record Sales, Profits

MILWAUKEE—Record sales and profits have been reported by Harnischfeger Corp. for the nine months ended July 31.

Compared with the corresponding three fiscal quarters a year earlier, sales jumped 47 per cent, from $76,844,041 to $112,580,487 and net income soared 111 per cent from $1,954,938, or $2.08 a share to $4,134,194, or $3.27 a share.

Walter Harnischfeger, board chairman of the big producer of heavy construction equipment, said the current record operating level should be extended into next year.

Boyer Utility Gets $1.6 Million Of REA Financing

WASHINGTON — Congressman Raymond F. Cleveland announces that the Rural Electrification Administration has approved a $1.6 million loan to the Boyer City Electric Co. in Boyer City, Mich.

The loan will finance construction of 140 miles of distribution line to serve 1,500 new consumers, in 12 counties, including Cheboygan, Emmet, Montmorency, Otsego, and Charlevoix.

REA funds have helped Top O' Michigan put up more than 3,000 miles of line to serve 18,000 customers. Other counties served by the cooperative are Antrim, Crawford, Oscoda, Kalaska, Missaukee, Grand Traverse, and Wexford.

$75,000 Cargo May Lie In Sunken Vessel

MUNISING — Treasure of 150 barrels of high-grade silver ore may be 106 feet under Munising Bay in the hold of a sunken ship recently discovered by a group of Grand Rapids skin divers.

Divers located the ship after a tip from a local fisherman and removed deck fittings in an effort to make positive identification.

The hunk is believed to be that of the steam-sail freighter Smits E. More, which went down in a storm in 1889 carrying 350 kegs of whiskey and the 150 barrels of silver ore. Total value of the cargo is estimated at $75,000.

Franklin R. DeLano, one of a five-man group who discovered the vessel, said they had been looking for the ship for about a year. He said they could not determine the ship's name or find evidence offering positive identity of the ship.

The vessel appeared to have four decks. Three, including the main deck, were intact. The fourth, presumably the hold, was covered with silt. DeLano said his group plans to return next month with dredging equipment in an effort to determine what the hold contains.

Reports say the More was eastbound from Minnesota when it sank June 13, 1889. It was suggested the vessel may have struck a reef before sinking. DeLano said the bow of the ship found was caved in, indicating the ship may have struck something solid.

Besides DeLano, the party included Roger Smits, Bernard E. Sobie, Teunis R. Klenjan and Louis Haas.

Gas Service Set For U.P. Cities

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. will "turn on the gas" to six Upper Peninsula areas in Delta, Marquette and Alger counties in ceremonies Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Harry Middleton, Escanaba district manager, said today first "turn on ceremony" is scheduled for 2 p.m. Monday at Munising. Christmas and AuTrain service will begin later Monday afternoon. Ceremonies are scheduled also at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Chatham and 3 p.m. at Trecor, and Wednesday at 2 p.m. for the New Swanzey-Gwinn area and at 3 p.m. for Little Lake.

Middleton said the ceremonies will climax a summer long project, except for some short main extensions in some areas. Construction on the project to bring natural gas into the communities began about May 1. Communities of Munising and Gwinn will join Michigan Consolidated officials in dinners Monday and Wednesday, respectively. Munising's banquet is set for 7:30 p.m. at the Forest Inn, while Gwinn will gather at the VFW club, also at 7:30 p.m.

Pipeline for the northern service was hooked into the main natural gas line atop the Gladstone bluff. The new line runs east to Rapid River, then north along U. S. 41 to Trenary and Eben, where it splits east to Munising and west to Gwinn.

State Justices To Visit City

Chief Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh, Lansing, and Justice Otis M. Smith, Flint, of the Michigan Supreme Court will visit Escanaba Tuesday and Wednesday as part of a campaign tour of the Upper Peninsula.

Terms of the men expire Jan. 1, 1967, and both are seeking reelection to Michigan's highest court.

Kavanagh and Smith will arrive Tuesday night from Marquette and will be honored at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday with a breakfast at the Sherman Hotel, announced George St. Louis. The public is invited to the breakfast.

They will leave Wednesday morning for Schoolcraft County.

Kavanagh, 57, was born near Carson City, Mich., and is a graduate of the University of Detroit. He was elected State Attorney General in 1954 and 1956 and was elected to the high court April 1, 1957. He became chief justice in Jan. 1964.

Smith, 44, was born in Memphis, Tenn., and attended Fisk University and Syracuse University, graduating from Catholic University Law School, Washington, D. C., in 1950. He was appointed chairman of the Michigan Public Service Commission on July 1, 1957, and served in that capacity until Oct. 9, 1959, when he was appointed State Auditor General. He was appointed associate justice Oct. 6, 1961, and elected to fill an unexpired term in Nov. 1962.

Bonding For Growth

The State of Michigan has watched quite a few of its industries move to Southern states, lured by offers of new plants. There is an undercurrent of escape from labor union troubles in the South's bid for Northern industry, too, but the offer of a new factory to a firm that is trying to meet growing competition in an inefficient old one has been the clincher with some industries.

To combat this sort of thing Michigan has considered several programs of industrial enticement and it has moved in some small matters to make itself more appealing to new industries, or to industries which want to move. A major step in the process was the 1963 action of the Michigan Legislature in passing the Municipal Revenue Bond Act.

It permits a municipality to issue bonds, using the city's credit for surety, to assist industries. This is the state's answer to the Dixie program of aid to industry, which is on a state, rather than city basis in parts of the South. The chief appeal of such municipal revenue bonds in Michigan would be that—though they might pay less than other investments—they would be marketable because they would be exempt from the federal income tax. Their earnings would not be subject to a federal levy like that from private bonds or stocks.

The first major usage of the Municipal Revenue Bond Act was proposed by the City of Gaylord in its effort to get the U.S. Plywood Corp. to build a plywood plant at Gaylord. Because the act—and especially its historic application of tax-free municipal bonding (originally designed to make city bond issues attractive to investors by tax saving rather than high interest earnings)—to economic development had not had legal review—the Michigan State Supreme Court was asked to rule on it.

The court demurred because some of its members questioned whether there was really a contest over the act's validity or whether the court was being used as a sort of legal guarantor of such bondings. But it accepted jurisdiction and it has now ruled that the bonding act is constitutional. The voting was 6 to 2, an unusual agreement for Michigan's Supreme Court justices.

The ruling immediately affects the City of Gaylord, which now has the highest state legal authority for issuance of bonds to finance the $5 million U.S. Plywood Plant. The plant has already been built with short term financing and is in operation. But the ruling has statewide application and is of special significance in the Upper Peninsula, where several communities are considering its use to induce industry to locate with them.

A common projected usage of the act will be to finance with municipal bonds the construction of factory buildings which will be leased to manufacturers, probably on a lease-purchase contract, so that the manufacturer ends up owning the plant, having paid for it with his rent payments. This sort of arrangement permits a manufacturer to put his own capital into machinery and operating funds and in a time of tight money and high capital investment costs like the present, such municipal aid is of special attraction to industry.

This is the type of financing which has been proposed at Munising by the Oxford Paper Co. in its planning for a pulp and paper mill there, utilizing Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. pulping woods as its basic source of fiber supply.

In a situation like that of Escanaba, which has one of the oldest industrial promotion programs in Michigan and a substantially successful one, the Municipal Bonding Act provides new authority for municipal action in industrial promotion. The city has a million dollar fund created by sale of its gas utility. It has already earmarked the money for loan to industry to increase Escanaba jobs. The Supreme Court's action affirms that the city's concept of legal propriety in use of municipal funds in such a way is valid.

The implications of the act are far reaching. It puts a heavy burden on city councils and commissions, giving them a responsibility of decision which many may decide to share with an authority of their creation, into which they can bring special skills useful for the determination of public interest in proposed industrial ventures.

The act is one more step in the socializing (governmentalizing) process which is so strong in America today. There is an increasing tendency to use the public credit to perform public services. And now the Supreme Court has said that the assisting of industrial growth is a proper public service. It will make our politicians into businessmen and our businessmen into politicians, but, good or bad, here it is.

Finding The Way

"With It" Church

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
LONDON, ENGLAND—stead of stating a real message, Fashion trend: More and more young men are covering their ears with their own hair. Not only the bearded beatniks who scorn the amenities of quackish conformists but thousands of others affect the flair for curls that trail over their collars. In England there are counterparts of those elegant dandies of the Rembrandt and Van Dyke portraits.

If this were just the rebel who rather at the statue of Eros in Piccadilly in London or who roam the streets of Soho, it could be dismissed as another youthful prank. It is more than this. When one sees on one hand the Londoner with bowler and rolled umbrella, one wonders how long these others are for this world.

I considered this when two of these long-haired young men assisted in receiving the offering in a local church. It was good to see them present, for the church has lost contact with all too many of this generation. Now what do you say to them?

Miss Lauren Wade, a 19-year-old London resident, believes that the church has missed its chance because it has tried to be "with it" in-

Irrigate Delta Potatoes?

By J. L. HEIRMAN
Delta Agricultural Agent

As we sit at our office desk and look out the window—it is raining. It is not the best setting to write about irrigation, but better than getting out and getting wet.

We are getting some rain now and we usually do from the middle of August on through September. We must not forget, however, the six weeks of drought during June and July. Now is the time to start planning for next year and not when the crop is setting there suffering for lack of moisture.

Some potato growers after reading this will detect a change in my thinking. There are two reasons for this; first, we changed the variety of potatoes grown and, secondly, we are moving into specialization.

We are going for one thing. The farm no longer has another income to fall back on. It is therefore imperative that the one specialized crop be successful year after year and irrigation becomes a necessity. We will have some good comparisons to make this year, the irrigated fields vs. the non-irrigated.

With irrigation becoming a necessity, how will this affect the potential potato production here? A second question might be "Will we be growing some other crops to make better use of the equipment?"

We know one thing—the water supply is not too plentiful in this area. Good farm land along streams will be more in demand. We do not have too much information on underground water but Art Slaughter, geologist with the Michigan Conservation Department, tells us we must go down to the Lake Superior sandstone stratum to get adequate supply from wells.

This means going down from 400 to 500 feet in the Cornell-St. Nicholas area where most of the potatoes are grown. A well 500 feet deep and of a size required for irrigating is no small investment. Then add to this the cost of the irrigating equipment and it totals up to several thousand dollars. This means that the farmer must grow large acreages to warrant the investment. The large acreage can only be accomplished by specializing in the one commodity.

We doubt that new crops will come in with irrigation because the irrigating system would be used during the growing season on the potatoes and when not in use would be on a stand-by program. Seeing irrigation systems in operation on potatoes may give some people ideas for other crops. One might be strawberries, but here again the individual would probably specialize in strawberries alone. If he also went into potatoes he would need a full line of machinery and storage for potatoes.

We have farmed all these years without an assist from irrigation. We have depended on rainfall and gotten by growing such varieties as Russet Rural and Sebago potatoes. The Burbank, however, is entirely different in its growing habits. It goes off type very easily when moisture is lacking and we have a few hot days.

We do not want to discourage farmers by saying they cannot grow potatoes without irrigation, but if water is not available they might consider another variety. We are always looking for new ones and the Burbank Russet some day could meet its equal or superior.

We do not see irrigation in the picture as yet for lower income crops. Some day dairy farmers may use it for summer forage production and eliminate pastures.

College Bars Indicted

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

What follows is a letter from a teen-ager:

"I have been reading your articles about juvenile delinquency.

"Because I am an 18-year-old teen-ager I feel your articles pertain to me. No, I am not a juvenile delinquent but I could be very easily . . .

"I think your efforts to rid the courts of juvenile delinquents, keeping them off the street and from just 'hanging around' will be progressive eventually, but I don't think you understand why some boys and girls become delinquents. I don't know all the reasons either, but do have some ideas . . .

"You stated (some) teen-agers don't have the motivation to display their talents . . . What about those who do care and maybe lack the high IQ or intelligence (me) that is desired or required for a certain vocational career?"

"Some students have wanted to become nurses ever since they bandaged their dolls' arms; others have had plans to become teachers since they were little tots playing school themselves and so many others wanted to enter these and other professions . . .

"(But) because of the great emphasis placed on college boards and pre-entrance examinations, these students with motivation, ability and especially the desire to learn are discouraged because they get rejected from particular schools.

"Their lifelong desires . . . to engage in nursing, teaching, etc., are now lost and have to be forgotten.

"Now they are undecided and don't know what to do. So they will find a job that pays something, but the . . . interest in this particular job (is) lacking. They just don't care, because it is not what they planned to become.

"Others, who are very discouraged, give up because their lifelong ambitions are ruined . . . (They) 'bum around,' obtaining that 'laissez faire' attitude on life.

"I don't understand why such great emphasis should be placed on college boards and college entrance exams . . .

"How can these tests, taken in one day, possibly determine your ability, show your personality, emphasize your inner desires, or show how hard you have tried to compete with the difficult subjects required to enter this particular profession?"

"In my opinion, someone who has the desire to learn, the motivation and the willingness to try to become what he has set his heart on doing for years should at least stand a chance.

"You wonder why kids hang around street corners . . . and like, well if they can't get accepted into college, where are they going to practice their talents, skills and lifelong ambitions that they so long desired to perform?"

"I am presently doing work in chemistry and am trying my hardest to fulfill my dream of becoming a registered nurse. I, too, if not accepted into high school, could become a delinquent . . . because of dis-

Farmers of Delta County and the Escanaba area were guests of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce at a Farmer-Businessman barbecue picnic at Ludington Park.

The Escanaba Bears captured the 1956 Tri County League play-off championship by whipping the Niagara Badgers 8-4 at the Niagara diamond.

24 YEARS AGO

George LaFave, WPA recreational leader, defeated Leonard "Gump" Olson in straight games to become first men's shuffleboard champion of the city. He defeated Milton Plumb and Bevier Butts in earlier rounds.

Escanaba was experiencing its most successful ore shipping season in more than a decade, the best since 1930.

I-696 Freeway Charges Hurdled

LANSING (AP) — Democratic legislative leaders have accused Republican Gov. George Romney of trying to distort facts surrounding the controversial I-696 freeway.

"The governor only Thursday told legislators that Congress would provide no extension of time for states to seek grants to take advantage of federal funds and that if nothing were done immediately the entire I-696 program would collapse." Speaker Joseph Kowalski and Senate Majority Leader Raymond Dendzel, both of Detroit, said in a joint statement Thursday.

Before a meeting with Oakland and Macomb County legislators Wednesday Romney said, "I've talked with State Highway Director Howard Hill, and find that there isn't anybody who can tell you with certainty what the time limit is."

Romney is afraid that if action isn't taken soon to end the stalemate over the route of the 18.1-mile freeway through 15 suburbs the state could lose $140 million in federal highway funds.

Fever Outbreak Kills 500 Filipinos

MANILA (AP) — Philippine health authorities reported 204 more cases of hemorrhagic fever here, bringing the total to more than 500 since an outbreak started a month ago. There have been 19 deaths.

Dr. Jacinto Dizon, director of the Disease Intelligence Center, said the number of cases since the beginning of the year is 2,051. In 1964, 2,800 persons were stricken.

The disease causes severe pain, bleeding and vomiting.

Ann Landers

Unhappiest Boys Problem, Emotional

Dear Ann Landers: Please help me. I am an 11-year-old boy who is the unhappiest person in the whole world. I do something that is terrible and I just can't stop no matter how I try. I wet the bed. I have tried starving myself and going without water for days at a time but it doesn't help.

My mother took me to a doctor last year and the doctor said it was not serious and that I would outgrow it and not to worry. Ever since my mother knows I don't have a sickness she has been trying to disgrace me out of the habit by telling everybody that her 11-year-old baby boy still wets the bed. She even told my friends and now they all know why I never sleep at their houses.

Please tell me what I can do about this awful thing. I promise to follow your advice no matter what it is.—UNHAPPIEST BOY

Dear Boy: It's too bad that the doctor didn't go a little further when he explained to your mother that your bed-wetting was not caused by a physical sickness. He should have told your mother that many adolescents wet the bed right up through the teen years because they are insecure and unhappy.

I suggest that your mother take you to a doctor who can help you work out your emotional problems. Ask your school counselor or your favorite teacher to recommend two or three such doctors so your mother can take her choice.

Dear Ann Landers: Seven years ago I married a man I thought I loved. He wouldn't work so I had to support both of us. I wanted a family and decided I would never have one if I stayed married to him, so we called it quits.

I swore if I ever found a good man I would be the best wife in the world. Well, I found a real jewel. The fact is, he is so wonderful it is difficult to describe him. We have a charming home, two lovely children and just about everything a person could want. So, will you please tell me why my mouth is never shut? I nag constantly. I'm forever picking on this marvelous man and I'm so sick of listening to myself that I can't stand it. What is wrong with me anyway? I'm too ashamed to sign my name. Just call me—NUTTY MARIE.

Dear Marie: I'll bet your jewel is the quiet type. Most wives who nag figure a fight is better than being ignored.

Instead of criticizing or complaining, switch to topics of mutual interest. Nagging, like any other pattern of behavior, can become a habit, and it can be broken if you work at it.

Dear Ann Landers: My cousin had a rush wedding. She was pregnant (and looked it). But that didn't stop her from wearing a white gown and having bridesmaids and all the trimmings. My sister went out and bought the bride an expensive present.

The baby was born last week and now my sister wants to buy another present. I think it's wrong to treat this girl like she is the Queen of Sheba. When people don't live right they should not enjoy special privileges. Am I right?—RE-LEVER IN MICHIGAN

Dear B.: So only the Queen of Sheba should get a present? The girl probably suffered a great deal and I'm sure she is doubly appreciative of any kindness shown her. Your sister sounds like a fine person to me. Too bad you aren't more like her.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet "Dating Do's and Don'ts" enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ruppe Charges Tax Hike Plot

ALPENA — Philip E. Ruppe, Republican nominee for Congress in the 11th Congressional District, at a meeting opening his headquarters here Friday said: "Without new representation in Washington after November, Northern Michigan families next year will have to make further standard of living sacrifices."

"They will have to do this to pay their share of as much as a $15 billion tax increase to support the rising Vietnam and stepped-up 'Great Society' programs costs. President Johnson hoped to be able to request a tax hike from Congress after the elections."

Ruppe said "President Johnson would be asking now for more taxes, except that he does not want to put incumbent Democratic congressmen, who have been rubber stamps for his spending programs, in the awkward position of having to vote for higher taxes while they are fighting for re-election."

"President Johnson, purely for political reasons, delayed the decision to impose the very unpopular high tax earlier this year. Meantime, the forces of inflation — which have forced Northern Michigan families to stretch their budgets to pay higher prices for food, clothing, rent, and other necessities — have been allowed to run their course, and because of this, he will now ask for double what he was going to ask for earlier."

"I am opposed to such a tax increase because it will hurt those who must live on a fixed income. The best way to curb inflation is to cut out non-essential spending programs and maintain a balanced budget; this can be accomplished without hindering programs to help the needy of the 11th District."

Robert Dominic of Petoskey, head of the Northern Michigan Ottawa Association, reported there is presently no unemployment among the Indians in that area, largely because of seasonal work. Those who wish can find year-around employment, he reported.

The Commission met today with some of the Indians of the Hannahville Indians at the Bark River-Harris School in a further exploration of the problems of that community.

Four Injured As Car Rolls

MANISTIQUE — A car driven by Catherine Winter, 21, of Garden overturned in Fairbanks Township at 8:30 p.m. Friday, injuring four persons.

Taken to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were the driver and three passengers, Rose DeMars, 18, of 420 S. 8th St., Escanaba; Margaret Bernier, 17, of Garden, and Carol Plante, 18, also of Garden.

State Police of the Manistique Post said the car went out of control on a curve and rolled over on its right side, coming to rest on its top. The accident happened on Delta County Rd. 482, two tenths of a mile south of County Rd. O-12.

Troopers said investigation is continuing. Details on extent of injuries were not available.

Protest 'Misuse' Of Indian Graves

"The misuse of the bones of our Indian ancestors" by opening graves and exposing the bones of the dead for commercial purposes was protested to the Michigan Indian Affairs Commission by one of the state's most influential Indian leaders.

Robert Dominic, Petoskey, told the Commission: "I have just come from St. Ignace, where Indian graves have been opened and the bones placed on public display."

Dominic is president of the Northern Michigan Ottawa Association and chairman of a Tribal Council representing about 1,100 Indians in the Cross Village-Petoskey community.

In the Straits area there are places where admission is charged the tourists to see an open Indian grave, he continued.

"The misuse of the bones of our Indian ancestors in this way does not mean that I am against the examination of the remains by scientists," said the Indian leader.

"Archaeologists should be given the opportunity to study and evaluate the bones for their bearing on history — but the bones should then be reburied and suitably marked," Dominic declared.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Commission Hears Plans To Aid Michigan's Indians

By CLINT DUNATHAN

The situation of the non-reservation Indians of Northern Michigan is presently an unhealthy and unhappy one — but state and federal agencies are sending up smoke signals indicating they are on the way to the rescue.

These hopeful signs were forthcoming at a meeting of a new state group — the Michigan Indian Affairs Commission — in the Court House at Escanaba Friday afternoon.

Herman E. Cameron of Brimley, a Chippewa Indian, is chairman of the Commission which was first a study group and then an official 11-member body of the state.

"Our primary interest revolves around the lives and welfare of the Indian people — the Indian citizens in all parts of Michigan," Chairman Cameron said in opening the session.

"We can not wave a magic wand or come up with immediate solutions," he continued. The Indian situation can, however, be brought more forcibly to the attention of groups and agencies through Commission understanding of Indian problems, he said.

One of the Commission members is Atty. James R. Fitzharris, Escanaba Municipal Judge, who served as legal counsel to the some of the Great Lakes Indians in their action to obtain equitable payment for lands ceded to the United States.

Indians on the Commission besides Chairman Cameron are John R. Winchester, Belleville, and Benedict Quigino, Mt. Pleasant. Eight of the 11 members were present for the meeting in Escanaba.

The Commission received information about non-reservation Indians in the Hannahville community near Bark River-Harris; the few families in the vicinity of Nahma; a larger group at Lac View Desert near Watersmeet; and in the Cross Village-Petoskey area south of the Straits.

Few On Relief

Thomas Vizanko, Community Action Program (War on Poverty) federal agency director, reported on the Lac View Desert community, which is some 10 miles distant from schools, stores, electric power and other conveniences at Watersmeet.

The Indians of the Community have health and dental problems and their housing condition is "the worst in the Upper Peninsula," Vizanko told the Commission.

He said he seeks to remove the people to a 100 acre tract near Watersmeet to land now in the Ottawa National Forest. The Indians prefer to live near town, he reported.

"Not many of these people are on direct relief — believe it or not," he said. The arts and crafts of the older Indians is fast disappearing and there is now little or no market for quality goods of Indian manufacture.

Electric Power

Henry Ross of 404 Delta Ave., Gladstone, directed the attention of the Commission to the need for preserving the traditional skills of the Indians and finding a market for their goods.

Commissioner Winchester reported that $80,000 has been made available in federal funds for a three-state program of Indian crafts development. It is proposed to market items under a Great Lakes Indians trademark.

Ray LaPorte, Escanaba, director of the Community Action Program in Delta, Menominee and Schoolcraft counties, reported on the situation of the Indians at Nahma.

He said that he is now in the process of negotiating with the Alger Delta Electric Cooperative to run a power line to the homes of the Hannahville Indians. "I am hopeful we can announce within the next couple of weeks that an agreement is reached and this will be done."

The training of the Indian men to do the basic wiring in their own homes is another goal, he said.

Health Needs

The Nahma area has "19 to 20 Indian kids who need dental help," LaPorte continued. There is also need for a program of activities for all youth of the Nahma community and two VISTA workers may be assigned there, LaPorte added.

Billy Bolin, Bureau of Indian Affairs representative in the Upper Peninsula, who resides in Gladstone, said that the attention of the U.S. Public Health Service has been directed to the needs of the 19 Indian children at Nahma. Reservations require reservation residency, an exception is being requested.

"If the Public Health Service does not provide this service, then the County Health Department must," Bolin said.

Bolin is the first resident agent of the Bureau of Indian Affairs to be assigned to Michigan in about 20 years — while both Minnesota and Wisconsin have state offices and larger staffs. Michigan is visited by personnel from the Wisconsin office also.

"It is my personal opinion that with two men we could do

NY Newspaper Strike Ending

NEW YORK (AP) — A 126-day old labor dispute that has blocked publication of the New York Journal Tribune appeared near an end today after tentative agreement was reached between the Pressmen's Union and the merged newspaper.

William J. Kennedy, the union president, said Friday he would recommend acceptance of the contract terms at a meeting of union members Sunday. Spokesmen for the paper indicated they could begin publishing by Sept. 6 if the agreement is ratified immediately. Details of the contract were not revealed.

Minor contract details still remain to be worked out with nine other unions, but Thomas J. Murphy, executive vice president of the New York Newspaper Guild, said, "There is no problem which would prevent us from going back to work tomorrow morning."

The new paper, born of the merger of the Journal-American, the World Telegram & Sun and the Herald Tribune, will publish afternoon and Sunday editions.

It had planned a morning paper too, but on Aug. 15, the corporation announced the demise of the 131-year-old Herald Tribune. The dispute, longest in New York newspaper history, was blamed by the publishers for the Tribune's death.

Riots Fail To Move DeGaulle

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle arrived today from Djibouti, French Somaliland, where his visit was marked by bloody rioting between crowds demanding independence and French troops and police.

Emperor Haile Selassie, a tiny bearded figure beside the towering French leader, was at the flag-bedecked airport to greet him.

A flight of Ethiopian jet fighters escorted De Gaulle's plane on the last leg of the flight to the capital and a 21-gun salute boomed as it touched down.

Several thousand people had gathered at the roadside in town to watch the president and the emperor change from their limousine to a horse-drawn state carriage, in which they rode the rest of the way to Haile Selassie's Jubilee Palace.

Only a sprinkling of people lined the four-mile route to town.

The welcome was enthusiastic but far fewer people turned out than had greeted Britain's Queen Elizabeth II last year.

De Gaulle appeared unfazed by two days of anti-French rioting in Djibouti. He smiled and waved to acknowledge cheers of the airport crowd.

Tech Testing Potential For

U.P. Building Stone Industry

By JEAN WORTH

There's a display board of stone samples in the State Office Building in Escanaba which shows the great variety and attraction of stones to be found in the Upper Peninsula.

The display was prepared by the Institute of Mineral Research at Houghton, and it is not intended to impress the tourist, but rather to indicate the potential for development of a building stone industry.

There is no such industry today on any sizeable scale, although there is some small venture quarrying at various places in the Upper Peninsula. There once was a sizeable stone industry that quarried the red stones of the Jacobsville Sandstone formation that runs all the way from the Copper Country over to Munising. Many of the public buildings of the Upper Peninsula which were built in the last century have exteriors of these sandstones, which turn brown in weathering.

Famed Geology

The possible large potential of a building stone industry in the Upper Peninsula, which is world famed for its geological wonders, has occurred to many persons and there have been many small inquiries and quarry efforts, but study on the scale of the current inquiry into the situation by the Institute of Mineral Research, under the direction of Allen Kennedy, assistant director of the Institute, which is headed by Earl Volin.

The Michigan Department of Economic Expansion gave the Institute a grant of $27,000 to make the study and work started a year ago last June and has exhausted the grant. The Institute has been financing the study since with Tech funds and will have several technical reports on its findings coming up this fall.

The Upper Peninsula's present stone production is mostly of dolomite and limestone for fluxing in blast furnace production of steel. Across the state line in Wisconsin the Peninsula Granite & Marble Co. of Iron Mountain quarries granite at Amberg and there is a greenstone quarry and plant for the production of roofing granules at Kremlin, Wis., near there.

The Metronite quarry near Felch produces stone for the making of paints and size materials and Lower Michigan produces much stone for the steel industry, for the making of cement and some sandstones for the building trades.

Near Arnheim in the Copper Country there is a small quarry producing red and light colored layered stone called "baco stone" from the Jacobsville deposit for the building trades. Kennedy said that architects recognize stones by trade names—like supermarket shoppers recognize soap—and that any commercial development of the Upper Peninsula's stones for building usage would require preparations to meet modern marketing requirements.

"When we ask architects about supply of building stones," said Kennedy, "they ask questions like 'Do you have a 10-year supply?' They want to be sure that they can reorder. It is too early to speculate on the possibilities of a building stone industry in the Upper Peninsula, but we do have some fairly unique stones. It becomes a question of whether we have them in sufficient quantity and whether they are really available."

Testing Needed

"We must interest people in this industry and there must be much testing. 'In the granite trade the quality cannot be determined by surface drilling. It costs about $50,000 to determine if it can be cut into blocks of acceptable quality.'"

"Our reports will tell the chemical composition of our stones from surface samplings, and physical testing of solubility, resistance to abrasion and such qualities. And we'll have a technical report on marketing."

The Delta County Planning Commission and Delta County Board of Supervisors have initiated a study of the feasibility of development of a building limestone quarry on the Garden Peninsula. The Institute of Mineral Research at Tech did the sampling for the project and the reports support the feasibility of developing a commercial building stone source there, said Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanlerbergh. UPCAUP cooperated in the study.

Encephalitis Toll In Texas, Eight

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The encephalitis death toll in Texas stood at eight today. Seven have been in Dallas. The first death in Corpus Christi occurred Friday.

There were 102 suspected cases in Dallas with 77 confirmed and 85 in Corpus Christi with 20 confirmed.

Two C123 Air Force cargo planes will spray the western part of Dallas County a second time today with the insecticide Malathion in an effort to halt encephalitis-carrying culex mosquitoes.

Sunday, three planes which completed the initial spraying of Dallas County Friday will begin spraying the Corpus Christi area, weather permitting.

The number of cases increased by nine in Dallas Friday and neighboring Fort Worth reported its first case of the disease.

Hatcher Says U Obeys Law

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A group of 14 students met Friday with University of Michigan President Harlan Hatcher and Vice President Richard Cutler to protest the school's reply to a House Un-American Activities Committee subpoena.

The committee subpoenaed lists of names of members and sponsors of three U-M organizations which have opposed the war in Viet Nam.

The organizations were the W.E.B. DuBois Club, Student Committee to Aid the Vietnamese, and Voice Political Party.

Eric Chester, a student, told the two that the university should have allowed the students to challenge the relevance of the subpoena and its scope.

"The decision has been made and there it stands," Hatcher said. "The university will abide by the law by accepting the legal compulsion which are served on it."

"These groups are by nature public activities organizations," Hatcher added. "By their very nature they cannot expect to and the duty of the university remain secret. This is a question of the power of Congress and disagreements with the committee's action should be contested through the courts and not through the university's administration."

Ferris To Build Student Housing

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — Ferris State College officials say construction will start this fall on 100 apartments for single students.

President Victor F. Spatheif says the project, costing $1,300,000, will be financed by selling self-liquidating bonds to private sources.

Dr. Spatheif indicated Friday that the apartments will be used until a 1,200-bed dormitory is completed. The apartments, which will house five or six single students, will be used for married students when the dorms are finished.

Officials say they do not expect the apartments to be finished until late next summer. The delay, according to Spatheif, is due to the "shortage of skilled workmen, rising construction costs and spiraling interest rates."

Stock Market Has Bad Week

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market took another thumping loss this week, its worst decline since the big plunge of spring 1962.

The market which was heading for the fabulous goal of "Dow 1,000" in early February now was said to be heading for around 750 in the Dow Jones industrial average. That would be the lowest level since November 1963.

The same old worries—tight money, Viet Nam, a possible recession, fear of a squeeze on profits by inflation and higher labor costs, possible devaluation of the British pound—were blamed. These added up to a fundamental lack of confidence in the market.

By the end of the week the Dow industrials had fallen another 24.06 points, closing at 780.56, their lowest reading since Jan. 21, 1964.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 8.9 to 280.1, their lowest figure since Nov. 22, 1963, when they closed at 279.6.

The 200 points that the Dow industrials lost in the spring of 1962 was now exceeded. The average had plunged 215.59 since it reached its record high of 995.15 last Feb. 9. At that time, no reasonable observer would deny that "Dow 1,000" was only a matter of time. Now, the gradual upward progress of more than two years has been wiped out.

For example, a share of American Telephone & Telegraph common—the most widely held stock—which cost $62.50 on Feb. 9, closed Friday at $50.62. Other blue chips also joined the decline. General Motors has dropped from $105.88 on Feb. 9 to $71.37; U.S. Steel from $52.75 to $39.37.

At no time were there any clear signs of panic, of the so-called "selling climax" which market technicians believe is needed in order to prepare the ground for a sustained recovery. Volume this week was 40,501,854 shares compared with 32,632,260 the week before.

Of 1,568 issues traded, 1,366 declined and 132 advanced.

Inciting To Riot Charge Dropped For Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Charges of inciting to riot were dropped Friday against one of four men arrested in connection with racial violence in Detroit earlier this month.

Wayne County Circuit Judge George E. Bowles, sitting as visiting judge in Detroit's Recorder's Court, dismissed charges against James Roberts, 24, of Detroit, after pretrial examination.

Judge Bowles will decide Sept. 6 whether the other three defendants will have to stand trial.

Briefly Told

City police are investigating the detonation of a home-made explosive in two locations in Escanaba on Friday. They said that railroad torpedoes fastened between bolts were thrown from the Chicago & North Western overpass onto the highway, and that another one tossed into the street exploded and a portion of it struck the Edward Klekamp home, 331 N. 11th St.

Moon Not Round, Bulges At Pole

WASHINGTON (AP) — The moon isn't round at all, report space scientists. It bulges.

Surprised officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration told newsmen Friday this information has been relayed by the Lunar Orbiter, the camera-carrying spacecraft now in its 13th day of whirling within dozens of miles from the moon's surface.

Spokesmen said data indicates there is a quarter-mile bulge at the moon's north pole and a quarter-mile depression at the south pole. In between, the moon bulges an additional one-eighth mile.

Before this, lunar experts said, the moon had seemed to be perfectly symmetrical.

Four Hurt In Traffic Mishaps

Four persons were injured, none seriously, in two traffic accidents in Escanaba on Friday, it is reported by city police.

Susan Ness, 5, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Ness of 311 S. 9th St., suffered a slight concussion and bruises of the legs and head when she was struck by a motorbike ridden by Ronald Felton, 515 S. 12th St.

The accident occurred in the 400 block, S. 13th St., about 3:30 p.m. and Susan was treated at St. Francis Hospital and released.

Mrs. Joyce M. Cuneo of New Castle, Del., and her two children, Jon 4 and Michael 6, were treated and released also for injuries they suffered in an auto collision at 19th and Ludington Sts. at 7:32 p.m.

The other car was driven by Roger G. Beauchamp, 420 2nd Ave. S.

City police also issued traffic court summonses to Kenneth E. Lucas, Marquette, careless driving; Michael C. Racine, 802 2nd Ave. S., drag racing; and John H. Dagenale, 815 N. 19th St., failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

Senate Votes Aid To Indian Tribes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed Friday a bill to double the size of a revolving loan fund for Indian tribes seeking compensation from the federal government.

The bill, sent to the House, would increase from $600,000 to $1,200,000 the fund providing loans for presentation of cases before the Indian Claims Commission.

Many tribes are seeking payments for land taken by the government.

MONROE CONTRIBUTES A SIGNIFICANT DOCTRINE TO OUR DEVELOPMENT

On Dec. 2, 1823, our fifth President, James Monroe, made one of the most famous—and most important—statements in our history.

He said no foreign nation should try to seize any part of North, Central or South America then, or at any time in the future.

This statement became known as the Monroe Doctrine and it turned out to be one of the most effective decrees ever issued because it did keep foreign countries out of the Americas, and prevented wars here.

It's interesting to note that of the first five Presidents of the U.S., four were from Virginia—Washington, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe.

Each of these so-called "Virginia Regime" Presidents contributed much to our country. And James Monroe will be remembered for his contribution of the Monroe Doctrine.

Mary L. Johnson Wed To Raymond Seppanen

Salem Evangelical Lutheran Church in Escanaba, it's altars adorned with vases of white gladiolus and turquoise tinted fugi mums, formed the setting, Saturday, Aug. 20 for the wedding of Miss Mary Louise Agusta Johnson of Oak Park, Ill., and Raymond John Seppanen of Calumet City.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 3 o'clock in the afternoon was the Rev. John J. Wendland. Marking the pews of the church were white satin bows, greens and pompons. Soloist for the wedding, Melvin McDonald, sang, "The Lord's Prayer," and "O Perfect Love," accompanied by Mrs. Gerald Hanneman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Johnson of 1915 10th Ave. S., Escanaba and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. John W. Seppanen of Bay View Location, Gladstone.

Silk Organza

The bride, escorted down the aisle on the arm of her father, wore a floor length gown of white imported silk organza fashioned with a bateau lace trimmed neckline, natural waistline, long tapered button down sleeves and self buttons down the back of the gown. Alencon lace and pearls accented the front of the gown. The sheath skirt, highlighted with lace appliques in the front was styled with a full chapel length detachable train trimmed with alencon lace.

Her headpiece, an organza cluster leaf effect, held a full bubble shoulder length veil of imported silk illusion and she carried a cascading bouquet of two white orchids and cascading stephanotis.

Maid of honor for her sister was Mrs. Nolan Johnson of Gladstone Rte. 1 and bridesmaids were, Mrs. William Hendon of Calumet City, Miss Ingrid Seppanen, Milwaukee, Mrs. John R. Seppanen, Escanaba and Mrs. John Hansen of Menominee.

Peacock Blue

They were attired in floor length, modified A-line gowns of imported peacock blue silk organza over taffeta styled with elbow length sleeves and detailed with small bows at the waistline. Their matching leaf cluster headpieces of imported silk organza secured silk illusion puff veils. They carried cascading bouquets of peacock blue tipped carnations with feather tipped white fugi mums.

Miss Glenda Seppanen of Escanaba, a niece of the bridegroom, was in the role of flower girl and she wore a replica of the bridesmaid dresses fashioned of imported taffeta. Her headpiece was a crown of feathered carnations and ivy and she carried a natural red basket filled with turquoise and white daisies.

Standing in as best man for John R. Seppanen, brother of the bridegroom, who is in the hospital, was Peter Hillesheim. Further attending the bridegroom were, James and Robert Johnson of Escanaba, brothers of the bride, Nolan Johnson of Gladstone Rte. 1 and William Hendon of Calumet City. Seating the guests were James Barrow and LeRoy Cooper.

Mother's Attire

Mrs. Johnson chose for her daughter's wedding a grape overblouse dress with a hand-made original velvet hat, matching shoes and beige gloves. She was presented a cor-

Ann Margaret Wheeler, Douglas P. Cashin Wed

St. Francis Xavier Church in Escanaba, brother of the Spalding, it's altars adorned with bouquets of white gladiolus and mums, was the setting in of Marinette, brother of the bridegroom and James J. Cashin today, Aug. 27 for the double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Ann Margaret Wheeler of Powers and Douglas Patrick Cashin of Escanaba.

Officiating at the nuptial mass at 11 o'clock this morning was the Rev. Walter Franczek.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheeler of Powers and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. James P. Cashin Sr. of 1006 S. 16th St., Escanaba.

The bride chose for her wedding a floor length gown of peau de soie featuring re-embroidered Alencon lace inserts on the A-line skirt. A wateau train also accented with re-embroidered lace flowed from the shoulders.

A satin pillbox with a back bow secured her bouffant veil and she carried a cascading arrangement of white carnations with ivy foliage and a cluster of cymbidium orchids.

Maid of honor for the bride was Mrs. Phyllis King of Powers, a friend of the bride and bridesmaids were, Miss Karen Poquette of Kingsford, a sorority sister of the bride, Miss Joy Kanluk of Chicago and Mrs. James L. Cashin of Marinette, sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

They were attired in identical two piece ensembles consisting of deep pink gowns with chantilly lace bodices and removable coats styled with lace sleeves. Clusters of petal flows ending in pearl drops held their matching veils and they carried cascading arrangements of red garnette roses and glamelias, the maid of honor had a single white glamelia and the maids, pink glamelias.

Serving as bestman was Paul Gayeff of Escanaba and groomsmen were Dennis Cash-

Humphrey's Son To Wed Today In Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)

The stunning, blue-eyed blonde from a small town who turned down Humphrey's first request for a date will marry the son of the vice president today.

Miss Donna Erickson and her college sweetheart will be married at St. Olaf's Roman Catholic Church.

Donna, 21, and the handsome, dark-haired Robert, 22, met while they were students at Mankato State College but her interest in a beauty contest led to a turn-down for her future fiancé.

Miss Erickson had been Miss Hastings in 1963 and competed in the Miss Minnesota contest. She wanted to watch the televised Miss America pageant on the night Humphrey asked her to go out.

It was about a year after that before Humphrey asked for another date.

She is a native of Hampton, a town of some 300 persons south of Minneapolis.

Robert, who is a Congregationalist, has been taking Catholic instructions.

GREAT ILLUSION The girls who cling to the great illusion are the girls who know what's going, now. When evening party time snaps on, the thing to slip into is a beautiful sheer black silk. Chiffons are shown in classic short dress style, the exciting new cage and the always popular sheath.

THE EMPHASIS IS ON MOTION in a Chanel-inspired suit in navy blue worsted double knit with its own double knit blouse. The skirt swings out in a mass of tiny pleats beneath the short, brass-buttoned jacket with a hint of seamed shaping in front.

Mrs. Jan Keith Morin (Lee's Studio)

Mary Ann Kutha Bride Of Jan Keith Morin

St. Joseph's Church in Escanaba was the setting Saturday, Aug. 6 for the wedding of Miss Mary Ann Kutha and Jan Keith Morin.

The Rev. Farrell Byers officiated at the double ring nuptials at 11 o'clock in the morning for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kutha, Rte. 2, Bark River and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Morin, 1417 1st Ave. S., Escanaba.

Chiffon, Taffeta The bride's white floor length gown of French designed chiffon and taffeta was styled with a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and a sabinina neckline trimmed with pearls and sequins. The cutaway skirt with a chapel sweep revealed boffant lace ruffles. The removable satin and lace train was attached to the shoulders. A dainty hairbraided crown trimmed with pearl drops secured her bouffant veil and she carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations, roses, mums and trailing ivy foliage.

Maid of honor was Nancy Morin, Escanaba, sister of the bridegroom. Carol Kutha, Perronville, sister of the bride and Linda Couillard, Perronville were bridesmaids.

Chiffon, Taffeta They were attired in floor length gowns of chiffon over taffeta fashioned with controlled skirts, elbow length sleeves and scoop necklines. Venice lace trimmed the bodice and sleeves. A back wateau panel was attached to the waist by a self rose.

Their headpieces were forward roses securing circular veils. The colors of the attendant's gowns were aqua, Nile green and maize and they carried bouquets of carnations to match their dresses.

Dianne Lindstrom, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl and she wore a pink floor length dress designed and made by the bride. It was styled with a fitted bodice, full skirt, scoop neckline and sheer puffed sleeves with attached flowers. A matching hat completed her attire and she carried a basket of assembled flowers tinted to match her dress.

John McDonough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDonough of Escanaba was ring bearer.

Serving as bestman was Wayne Lindstrom of Escanaba and Bob Villeneuve and Gregory Kutha were groomsmen. Seating the guests were Frank Roshak and Art Coolman.

Mother's Attire For attending her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kutha wore a light green satin brocade dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations and roses.

Mrs. Morin, chose an off-white sleeveless brocade dress with a matching coat and beige accessories. She was presented a corsage of yellow and white carnations and roses.

The reception was held in the Bark River Community Hall from 4 to 8 p. m. with a dance following. Music was furnished by the Henry Mroczkowski family of Danforth.

Assisting at the reception were, Jan Villeneuve and Linda Couillard, cutting the wedding cake and Mary Couillard, presiding at the coffee service.

The bride is a graduate of Bark River-Harris High School and Mr. Morin graduated from Escanaba High School. He is presently employed at B. F. Goodrich of Escanaba.

The newlyweds are residing at 528 S. 7th St., Escanaba following a honeymoon trip to Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Winnie Craven and two children of Chicago are visiting with Mrs. Craven's grandmother, Mrs. Julius Kwarcianny, and other relatives in the area this week.

John Braun, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Braun of Milwaukee, has been visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Nelson, this week.

Miss Joann Urbanc, who has been attending Marquette University in Milwaukee for eight weeks work toward her master's degree, spent the past ten days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Urbanc. She left Friday by air for Evansville, Ind. where she met her former roommate, Miss Sally McGrudder of Rockport, Ind. The two will take a ten day motor tour through Tennessee and Kentucky. Miss Urbanc is a teacher in the Kenosha Public School System.

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Folks:

A wonderful way to use leftover cold roast beef or pork the next day is to slice it EXTREMELY thin with your sharpest knife.

Reheat that thinned down (water) leftover gravy in a pan. Soon as it comes to a rolling boil and has thickened a bit, then drop the thin slices of meat into it, turn out the fire and put the lid on the pan.

By the time you have made some toast, the meat will have heated clear through. Place globs of meat on top of the toast, and smother it with the leftover gravy. Lush, hot roast beef sandwiches.

If you are trying to stretch it, add a chopped hard boiled egg to the gravy. Different, too. All you need is a salad and a vegetable to complete a wonderful supper.

When I cook a roast on a weekend, I usually wait a day or so before having it again. By slicing your roast thin while it's cold, it slices beautifully.

Heloise

Dear Heloise: Make a nylon net pompon scrubber (any size), and drop it on the floor when mopping. Kick it where there is a soiled spot, step on it and twist, spin or twirl, and see how the soil disappears!

The pompon will bounce up and be ready for the next spot! Sure beats getting down on your knees.

Mrs. J. H. S.

Dear Heloise: Some time ago, someone said she used iron-on tape on the back of material before sewing on buttons.

I find that a strip of the one-inch tape can be sewed inside the facing when making a dress, especially those that button all the way down the front.

The buttons almost never come off, but if they do they won't take part of the material with them!

Mary K. Schaeffer

Dear Heloise: Did you know that an empty spool makes an excellent bubbleblower for the kiddies? Just dip in warm water and then rub it on a bar of wet soap.

Keeps them amused for hours. Marge

Dear Heloise: For ladies wearing needle-thin heels while driving (many serious accidents have been caused by these heels catching in the floor mats or carpeting), go to your hardware store and buy little rubber tips used for small-sized chair legs — they come in all sizes and shapes.

Wear them on your thin heels when driving.

They will also protect your heels if you have to walk in gravel or over rough ground. I keep a pair in my purse and a pair in my car.

Doris H. Cummings

LETTER OF THOUGHT Dear Heloise:

One thing I have learned is that when you visit your in-laws and an argument starts, just look at them, lift up your shoulders, smile and say, "I don't want to hear it," and then walk out.

This way, you're not ever blamed for ANYTHING.

In - Law

Dear Heloise: Before putting heavy jewelry on dresses or sweaters of light woolen or nylon material, I put a quilted cotton square underneath the garment, hold it in place with my fingers, and then pin my jewelry to it. It keeps the jewelry from hanging loosely or tearing the garment.

Works fine!

Mickey Writes Storybook Finish To Tiger Ballgame

By The Associated Press

It wasn't a playoff for the pennant or the last game of the World Series, but just about everything else surrounding Mickey Mantle's performance Friday had the distinct aura of juvenile sports fiction about it.

The Yankees were down by a run in the bottom of the ninth of their game with Detroit and Clete Boyer was on first. Manager Ralph Houk called on Mantle, the aging superstar, who had been out of the lineup for 11 days with a pulled hamstring muscle in his leg.

"Don't run if you hit it on the ground," said Houk, worried about Mantle's legs. "Just go for the pump."

Mantle swung at the first pitch and missed spectacularly. He swung again and off went the ball into never-never land. The Yanks won 6-5.

After the game, Mantle felt about as you'd expect he might. "Any time you hit a home run that wins a ball game," said Mickey, "it's a terrific feeling."

All but lost in the midst of the Yankee's terrific feeling was Tiger pitcher Earl Wilson who had put Detroit ahead 5-3 with his two-run homer into the third deck in the eighth.

Hank Aguirre had taken over on the mound by the time Mantle came in to hit, but it was hardly much consolation to Wilson.

In other American League games, Baltimore beat Boston 3-2 in 12 innings, Minneapolis took Chicago 7-4, Washington shut out Cleveland 1-0 and California beat Kansas City 5-4.

In the National League, Atlanta beat New York 6-3, Cincinnati blanked Philadelphia 2-0, Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 7-4, Houston beat Chicago 9-4 in the completion of a game that had been suspended after seven innings in Chicago on Aug. 11, then the Astros won the regular game 7-4 and Los Angeles beat San Francisco 4-0.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT is Baltimore catcher Andy Etchebarren, trying to score over his Boston counterpart, Bob Tillman. Etchebarren was tagged out before he could plop a pinkie down on home plate.

Front Runners In Tight Bunch

WHITEMARSH, Pa. (AP)—The jam at the top today after 36 holes of the $110,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic was the biggest of the year on the PGA tour.

Led by Dave Marr, Don January and Bill Martindale, tied for the lead with 138, there were nine golfers only one stroke apart as the 75, who made the cutoff of 147, teed off in the third round.

Marr, January and Martindale took one look at the crowd of six just one stroke behind and headed for the practice areas after Friday's play.

Crowding them with 139 were Tommy Weiskopf, Roberto Di Vincenzo, Gene Littler, Dudley Wyson, Bob Charles and George Knudson. It was only four strokes back to the perennial chargers, Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper.

"There's going to be some juggling around on that course today," said the 27-year-old Martindale.

Marr, January and Martindale blazed into the lead as young Weiskopf faltered.

The 32-year-old Marr fired a six-under-par 66 to go with his first round 72. Martindale toured the 6,700-yard White-marsh Valley Country Club course in 68. He had a first round 70 on the par 72 layout.

The 36-year-old January plodded down in the press tent, spread his hands across a table and said listlessly: "I'm just plumb worn out. I've played in eight tournament tournaments and I'm pooped. This is the last one this year except for some special television matches."

The big guns of the tour, Nicklaus, Palmer and Casper, shot 70, 71, 70, respectively, and were among a dozen tied at 142 PGA champion Al Geiberger was six strokes off among the 144s.

Front Runners In Tight Bunch

WHITEMARSH, Pa. (AP)—The jam at the top today after 36 holes of the $110,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic was the biggest of the year on the PGA tour.

Led by Dave Marr, Don January and Bill Martindale, tied for the lead with 138, there were nine golfers only one stroke apart as the 75, who made the cutoff of 147, teed off in the third round.

Marr, January and Martindale took one look at the crowd of six just one stroke behind and headed for the practice areas after Friday's play.

Crowding them with 139 were Tommy Weiskopf, Roberto Di Vincenzo, Gene Littler, Dudley Wyson, Bob Charles and George Knudson. It was only four strokes back to the perennial chargers, Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper.

"There's going to be some juggling around on that course today," said the 27-year-old Martindale.

Marr, January and Martindale blazed into the lead as young Weiskopf faltered.

The 32-year-old Marr fired a six-under-par 66 to go with his first round 72. Martindale toured the 6,700-yard White-marsh Valley Country Club course in 68. He had a first round 70 on the par 72 layout.

The 36-year-old January plodded down in the press tent, spread his hands across a table and said listlessly: "I'm just plumb worn out. I've played in eight tournament tournaments and I'm pooped. This is the last one this year except for some special television matches."

The big guns of the tour, Nicklaus, Palmer and Casper, shot 70, 71, 70, respectively, and were among a dozen tied at 142 PGA champion Al Geiberger was six strokes off among the 144s.

Roznovsky Is Unusual Baseball Player For Baltimore's Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP)—The leagues with the Chicago Cubs in 1964.

The Orioles, looking for receivers this spring, obtained Roznovsky for outfielder Carl Warwick. Used only sparingly, he has driven in nine runs with his 20 hits.

After failing behind 1-2, Roznovsky poked a homer in the right field bleachers for the first run off Boston's Lee Stange. Boog Powell followed with another pinch homer, and the Orioles went on to win 3-2 on Russ Snyder's bases-loaded single in the 12th.

It was only the fourth homer of Roznovsky's major league career, and his first pinch homer. In his next two times at bat, Manager Hank Bauer had Roznovsky bunt a base runner into scoring position.

"Can you believe that?" Roznovsky joked after the game. "I guess Hank figured I had hit my homer for this year."

Roznovsky is a strange breed of ball player. He never was an organized team until after his senior year of high school in Shiner, Tex.

"I went to a small school which didn't even have a team," he said. "I played amateur ball for the first time during the summer after my senior year."

"Of course, I had played ball in the backyard and catch and things like that. I was All-Garage Door one year."

But Roznovsky went to a Pittsburgh Pirates' tryout camp in 1958 and was signed to a contract.

"The only reason I was signed was because I had a good arm," he said. "They didn't know what position I would play."

After playing the outfield — "Until they found out I was too slow," Roznovsky was dropped by the Pirates but then signed on with the San Francisco Giants in 1960 and became a catcher. He reached the major

Delbert Grim Trap Champion

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—Delbert O. Grim was an estimated $6,000 richer Saturday after winning trapshooting's most coveted event — the Grand American Handicap.

But the 47-year-old manufacturer's representative from Lincoln, Neb., practically had to be talked into competing by his wife.

Grim Friday cut down 100 straight targets from 25 yards away to capture the Grand from among a field of 3,165 gunners. Grim, who was coming here to demonstrate re-loading tools for shotgun shells for his firm, said his wife told him:

"You're going there anyway and you love to shoot, so shoot."

And the calm, almost unemotional Nebraska did just that becoming the first participant since 1963 to shatter 100 targets in the premiere event of the Grand American Trapshooting Tournament.

His perfect round shaded the 99 performance turned in by Don Slavich of North Highlands, Calif., and Willard Langford of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Slavich, a 26-year-old Sacramento businessman shooting from 24 1/2 yards, cracked 88 straight before he missed. Langford, shooting from 19 yards, missed his 21st target to mar an otherwise flawless round.

The other division champs:

Veterans—William S. Golden, Columbus, Ga., 97 from 22 yards.

Juniors—Pat Cooper, Plainview, Tex., 98 from 20 yards.

Pro—Jack Latham, Dallas, Tex., 95 from 24 yards.

Women—Annie E. Gray, Searsbrook, Md., 97 from 18 1/2 yards.

Sub Juniors—Mark Burgess, Indianapolis, 97 from 20 yards.

Canadian—Ido Evangelisti, Montreal, 98 from 21 1/2 yards.

Columbus Must Master Trick

By The Associated Press
It's late in the season to be learning new tricks, but if Columbus is to win the International League pennant it is obvious the Jets somehow are going to have to learn how to beat fifth-place Richmond.

"I don't know how Richmond ever got down in fifth place," says Jet manager Larry Shepard. "They play like champions against us."

Shepard isn't just talking to hear himself talk, for in 12 meetings with Columbus this season, the Braves have won eight times. More alarming yet for the league-leading Jets, eight of their 12 remaining games between now and season's end on Sept. 5 are with the Richmond club.

Friday night the teams opened a three-game set on the Brave field, and as usual, Richmond won — 6-4 in 10 innings on Tommy Aaron's two-run homer. As a consequence of the loss, Columbus' lead over second-place Rochester, a 12-1 winner at Syracuse, was chopped to a single game.

Toronto, too, is becoming a danger to the Jets. By clobbering Buffalo 14-5 Friday night, the Maple Leafs climbed within 2 1/2 games of first place. In the other game, Toledo clipped Jacksonville 10-4.

Frank Fernandez hit a grand slam homer and John Miller a two-run blast for Toledo in its romp at Jacksonville. Danny Napoleon hit his 15th for the losing Suns.

Here in Escanaba, the Upper Peninsula Class B field was whittled down to three teams as the result of action at Memorial Field Friday night.

The Class C finals will be played tonight at 8 at Iron Mountain, matching Escanaba Teamsters against Chatham V&B Bar.

The Class A tourney will resume in Crystal Falls tonight with three games. The four remaining teams are Escanaba Merchants and Ishpeming Woody's in the loser's bracket, Hancock Office Supply and Marquette Ging's in the winner's bracket.

Koski Korners, the Class B tourney favorite, handed Marquette Northwoods Supper Club its first setback of the tournament in Class B at Memorial Field last night, 8-2.

In the second game Iron Mountain Credit Union eliminated East Kingsford Iron & Steel, 4-1.

Those results send Credit Union against Northwoods at 5 this afternoon. The survivor will take on Koski's in the finals at 7:30.

Koski's team floored Northwoods with seven runs in the first two innings, ripping Carl Mayer for six hits in the outburst. Con Yagodzinski stroked two key singles and scored twice. Gardner Bess rapped a double and single and also tallied two runs.

Koski's eighth run came on a solo homer off the bat of Mike Coughlin in the fifth inning. Al Bjork went the distance.

for the winners and allowed four hits. Mayer gave up eight from the Northwoods mound.

Carl Lemm, Felch High School basketball player, twirled a one-hitter for the Iron Mountain Credit Union's victory over East Kingsford.

The lone hit off Lemm was a leadoff triple by John Constantini who also scored the Steelmen's only run. Lemm struck out four.

Jerry Rittenhouse solved Bill Groleau's slants for a pair of triples to pace Credit Union at the plate. He stroked his first to drive in Bob Lindholm in the fourth inning and repeated in the sixth. Credit Union reached Groleau for five hits in all.

At Iron Mountain tonight the Escanaba Teamsters will have regular hurler Bill Baab on the mound against the defending U. P. champion Chatham outfit. The Teamsters ran off three straight victories before bowing to once beaten Chatham, 18-3, on a muddy field last Sunday night. Veteran Cliff Johnson will be on the hill for Chatham.

Yank Catcher Breaks Hand

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Yankee catcher Jake Gibbs broke his left hand in the game against Detroit Friday night and will be out for the rest of the season.

Koufax Fashions 21st Victory To Knock Giants Out Of First

By The Associated Press
Bob Bolin started out like the present Sandy Koufax, but wound up like the past Sandy Koufax.

Koufax himself stayed in the present, and the result was a 4-0 Los Angeles victory over San Francisco Friday night that topped the Giants from first place in the National League.

The loss dropped the Giants one-half game behind the Pittsburgh Pirates, who defeated St. Louis 7-4.

Koufax helped move the third-place Dodgers to within 1 1/2 games of the top, pitching a four-hitter for his 21st victory against seven defeats.

When the game was only a few batters old, though, Bolin looked as if he were going to steal the strikeout pitch right out of Koufax's glove.

The Giant right-hander fanned the first five Dodgers he faced, tying the modern major league record for consecutive strikeouts at the start of a game.

But Bolin couldn't maintain the pace and instead switched over to the base on balls pitch, the one Koufax threw so well in the first half of his major league career. Bolin walked six Dodgers, including two in the eighth inning when Los Angeles scored all four of its runs.

Koufax, on the other hand, walked only one, which is less than the 2 1/4 walks per game he's averaged in the last six years. The story in his first six years was a lot different. In that period he walked 5.3 batters a game.

Bolin finished with eight strikeouts to Koufax' seven, but the Dodger left-hander leads the majors with 261 and easily should win his fourth strikeout crown in six years.

In becoming the winningest pitcher in the majors, Koufax reduced his major league-leading earned run average to 1.61 and completed his 21st game in 32 starts.

Elsewhere in the National League, Cincinnati trimmed Philadelphia 2-0. Atlanta downed New York 6-3 and Houston defeated Chicago 7-4 after taking a 9-8 decision in the completion of a game suspended Aug. 11 after seven innings because of a curfew.

In the American, Baltimore edged Boston 3-2 in 12 and New York nipped Detroit 1-0. Minnesota beat Chicago 4-1.

Mickey Matches Own Golf Mark

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Mickey Wright has proven again she has little respect for ladies' golf records—even her own.

She owns many of the marks in Ladies PGA tournament history, and she tied one Friday as she grabbed the first-round lead in the $25,000 Glass City Golf Classic. She shot 30-39—69, and the only other front-nine 30 in the books was one she posted two years ago in a Midland, Tex., tournament.

Her 69 left her with a flock of other low-scoring challengers to fight off today. Gloria Ehret was one stroke back, Kathy Whitworth two, and a group of five was in at 72.

The tournament is being played at the 6,301-yard Highland Meadows Golf Club course, and the purse is the largest so far in LPGA history.

Colts Rally For Victory In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The Baltimore Colts stormed from behind in the second half behind quarterback Gary Cuozzo Friday night to beat the Cleveland Browns 24-17 in the second half of a National Football League exhibition double-header before 83,418 fans.

After the game, Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier was searching for answers. He finally said simply, "We let down."

The first game went to the Minnesota Vikings, 39-27 over the Washington Redskins, thanks to the foot of field goal expert Fred Cox.

He booted three in the fourth quarter, the last a 28-yarder with six seconds left.

There were some bright spots in the Browns' defeat, all in the first quarter when they jumped to a 14-0 lead.

Baltimore kept the pressure on quarterback Jim Ninowski in the second half after Frank Ryan threw a 39-yard strike to Gary Collins and Leroy Kelly dashed 46 yards for another touchdown, zig-zagging and leaping down the right side.

The Cleveland offense seemed to bog down in the second quarter after Bob Boyd intercepted a Ryan pass on the Colts' 14. Baltimore Quarterback John Unitas bounced back in six plays with a 13-yard pass to Tom Matte for a touchdown. Lou Michaels added a 43-yard field goal that cut Cleveland's halftime lead to 14-10.

Enter Cuozzo. The Colts' second string finger picked at the Browns' secondary for two touchdowns—a 44-yard heave to Willie Richardson and one for 24 that Matte grabbed with a leap at the three-yard line. He turned and stumbled into the end zone.

Unitas and Cuozzo combined for 17 of 33 completions for 243 yards while the Ryan-Ninowski combination was held to 149 yards.

Buster Trains For Cobo Bout

DETROIT (AP)—Big Buster Mathis, the Grand Rapids heavyweight, drilled with Alvin (Blue) Lewis Saturday in preparation for their bouts Monday night in Cobo Arena.

Mathis, who weighs nearly 270 pounds, will fight 200-pound Lloyd Washington of Buffalo, N.Y. Lewis is matched against Mert Brownfield of Pittsburgh. The six-round bouts are two of five scheduled.

Mike Bielski of Pittsburgh will fight Hedgemon Lewis of Detroit, replacing Tommy Russell who broke his foot while training.

Ronnie Harris will fight Rudy Richardson and Tony Lopez will face Carl Jordan.

Fight Results

By The Associated Press
SUMMERSIDE, P.E.—Jim Meilleur, 154, Toronto, outpointed Lennie Sparks, 149 1/2, Halifax, 10.

The Vikings also alternated passers, using Fran Tarkenton the first half and Ron VanderKelen in the second.

Sonny Jurgensen went the distance for Washington and threw three touchdowns, including a 43-yarder to Bobby Mitchell that put the Skins ahead 24-21 early in the third quarter. The others were 21 yards to Preston Carpenter and a one-yard flip to Jerry Smith. But Cox settled the issue. His nine-yard and 40-yard field goals tied it twice in the final period and the last came after VanderKelen passes moved the Vikings in close.

The Minnesota victory gives the Vikings 15 exhibition victories without a defeat. The Colts are 4-0, the Redskins 0-3 and Cleveland 2-2.

Today's action in the NFL has New York playing Philadelphia at Princeton, N.J., in the afternoon and Pittsburgh at Green Bay, St. Louis at Los Angeles, Atlanta and San Francisco at Columbus, S.C., and Dallas and Detroit at Tulsa, Okla., tonight.

In the American Football League, Houston plays at Kansas City this afternoon, New York meets Buffalo at Allentown, Pa., tonight and Oakland plays at Denver in a nationally televised contest Sunday.

Lions Veterans Return Tonight Against Dallas

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The Lions' defensive team can expect to have its hands full Saturday night against the Dallas Cowboys but the return of two seasoned veterans to the offensive team probably will draw most of Coach Harry Gilmer's attention.

Tight end Jim Gibbons and offensive tackle J.D. Smith—who hasn't played in two years—are expected to play in the Lions' fourth preseason game.

Captain and defensive tackle Alex Karras also is ready to play and rookie linebacker Bill Cody might be available for limited duty.

But because of the team's lack of scoring punch—despite an improved ground game—it is the test to Smith's knee that will bear the most watching.

The Lions have lacked the blocking in the offensive line and the return of Smith could ease the situation somewhat. Smith tore a leg muscle two years ago and injured his knee last season.

"We've held the other guys to an average of only 17 points a game," said Gilmer. "That should be good enough to make us a winner. But it hasn't. Not yet."

The Lions are 0-2-1 after three preseason games while the Cowboys, an explosive team that defeated Green Bay 21-3 last week, are 3-0.

"We've seen enough from our runners like Amos Marsh, Joe Don Looney, rookie Bruce McLenna, Tom Nowatzke and Nick Pietrosante to know that we definitely have a punch," Gilmer said.

Quarter Million Germans Buy

Motor Scooter With Roof

By MARTIN ZUCKER
DINGOLFING, Germany — (AP)—The turtle of German highways is a Lilliputian vehicle with the poetic name of Goggomobile.

The boxy car, ten feet by four feet by four feet, sells new for $842.50. For low income Germans, it is cheap "roofed transportation." For Germans of more means, it is a cheap second car.

In its 10 years of existence, the Goggomobile has become a landmark of the German highway. It is most often seen chugging away resolutely on the right side of the road, struggling towards its top speed of 50 miles per hour and conceding the bulk of roadway to heavier and faster machines.

More than 250,000 Goggomobiles have been built here by the Hans Glas Co., one of Germany's two family-owned automobile manufacturers. The other is Porsche.

Glas began building farm machines in 1883. After World War II, it branched out to the motor scooters, the cheapest and most popular mode of transportation in early post-war Germany.

One day in the early fifties, company chief Hans Glas saw some scooter riders huddling under a bridge during a rainstorm. He got an idea. Why not a motor scooter with a roof?

That idea, plus the help of son Andreas and engineer Karl Dompert resulted in the "Goggo."

"It sold at first for $742.50," said Dompert recently in an interview. "It was intended for a three-member family and sold for the same price as a motor cycle with sidecar and leather rain-proof clothing."

In contrast to the Goggo is the Glas 2600, the company's newest product. The sleek eight-cylinder sports coupe, with a body by Italy's Frua, sells for $4,500.

It too is intended for a particular customer. For the owner who wants speed, (125 miles per hour), distinction (two to three produced each day), a price under $5,000 and modern styling.

In the age of giant auto com-

THIS IS THE Lilliputian vehicle, called "Goggomobile," which is a footed transportation for low-income Germans.

panies, how does a small firm like Glas keep from being squeezed out?

The company has a simple strategy of aiming for the holes in the European automobile market.

"Take our 104 cubic inch limousine, for example," Dompert said. "It seats the same five persons as the Mercedes middle range, is just a wee bit slower, and costs from $500 to $1,000 less."

"And our 80 cubic inch and 104 cubic inch sports cars fill a big gap in middle-priced German sports cars."

Another secret of survival: Glas has no intention of growing into a competitive giant.

Hans Glas, the 75-year-old patriarch of the firm, said: "We produce 160 cars a day. That is 30,000 a year. We don't want to make more. We don't presume to give the big companies competition."

The elder Glas has handed leadership of the company over to son Andreas and Dompert, both of whom are 42 and were World War II Luftwaffe comrades.

They still hold to a rule of the house laid down by the senior Glas: We grasp no rocks that we cannot lift.

"In other words," said Dompert, "we borrow no money. If we don't have enough reserves to finance a new scheme, we drop the idea."

Such conservative financing, rare these days, is another of the company's secrets of survival.

The biggest Glas sellers are the low-cost Goggomobile and the stylish 104 cubic inch models. They helped push the company to a $50 million turnover in 1964.

Except for a short time during the inflationary days of the 1920s, the company has remained in family hands.

There are no plans to change this tradition, said Dompert.

The Glas company will continue to pop cars out of its small Bavarian factory and look for the holes in the selling market left by auto-making giants.

Car Production Nearly Doubles

DETROIT (AP)—Auto production in U. S. plants this week was nearly double that of a week ago, according to estimates by the trade publication Automotive News.

Output this week was estimated at 48,898 cars compared with 24,464 last week and 37,149 in the corresponding week last year.

Calendar year output climbed to 5,483,919 cars, compared with 6,194,434 at this stage a year ago.

Police Nab Turtle

PONTIAC (AP)—After a burglar alarm went off at a Bloomfield Township taxidermist's shop Friday, police swooped down and apprehended the prowler — a 35-pound snapping turtle which had escaped from a metal tub in the shop.

One Man Bugs Huge Industry

Motordom's Gadfly: Ralph Nader

By ROBERT COCHNAR

NEW YORK (NEA)—"You're getting so critical about everything," the matron was telling her husband in a recent syndicated cartoon panel, "you're becoming a regular Ralph Nader."

While Ralph Nader might not be a household name yet, it is certainly a name which could cause an automobile executive to gag on his Detroit Athletic Club martini.

"Ralph Nader, Ralph Nader, Ralph Nader," a Motordom magnate was heard to exclaim. "That's all you hear these days. You'd think nobody else was ever concerned with automobile safety."

Well the magnate was only partly right. Voices in favor of auto safety have been raised for years but few, until Ralph Nader came along, were much concerned with the vehicle's role in safety.

Nader, a 32-year-old Washington attorney, has made, without doubt, the greatest impact on Detroit since Henry Ford introduced the assembly line. His book, "Unsafe At Any Speed," is now on the best-seller lists and for the last year has caused no end of discordant cocktail party chatter from Dearborn to Bloomfield Hills and Grosse Pointe.

Most observers feel that if it were not for Nader and Sen. Abraham Ribicoff's "D-Comm" committee on highway safety, the automotive industry would have continued to enjoy a substantially positive public image.

Such is not now the case. Nader, for example, condemned as basically unsafe several past models of General Motors' rear-engine Corvairs. Corvair sales are now in a down-on and there's talk of discontinuing the line.

Nader himself believes that GM would never have publicly admitted the callback of some 16,000 Corvairs in 1965 because of faulty door latches.

"And were it not for the publicity Senator Ribicoff's committee and my book has received," Nader says, "I don't suppose the industry would have gone on record in favor of federal vehicle safety performance standards."

Nader adds, however, that even this decision wasn't clear-cut. "The industry was forced to state that federal standards are OK provided the states have a lot to do with their enforcement. The industry knows that the states, historically, have never done a damn thing to encourage vehicle safety and changes "have been trivial, more common to the women's hat industry than a major economic power in this country."

What Nader can't understand is why so many people question his motives for writing the book and for rocking the boat.

"Far too many people have asked me why I wrote the book," he says. "But if I were involved with the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, nobody would ask why."

His opponents also state that "Unsafe At Any Speed" does not pay sufficient attention to the driver who, after all, must control his automobile and is therefore responsible for most accidents.

"It's pretty hard to control the behavior of 95 million drivers all of the time," Nader says. "On the other hand, manufacturers could easily build a lot of tested safeguards into their autos at no extra cost to the consumer."

"I'm much more impressed with the difference between the Mayflower and Gemini-9 than I am with the Mayflower's navigator and the astronaut."

Nader admits that the auto industry has changed its products through the years but the switchman dies

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A 23-year-old railroad yard switcher died Thursday from injuries received when he was hit by a moving boxcar at a railroad yard in Grand Rapids. Witnesses said David Dill of Grand Rapids stepped off a switch engine and into the path of a car on another track.

Gustavus II Adolphus of Sweden was born Dec. 9, 1594.

SHOW-OFF

Harry is "showing-off"—and he certainly has a most appreciative audience!

We all "show-off" sometimes, in one way or another. It's a natural human tendency, and we can't be blamed for expressing it occasionally. And we are not apt to overdo it if we discover the need for humility.

Church is one place where this lesson can be learned. In God's House, we know instinctively how small we really are, which makes us more thankful for both His love and compassion.

We need this sense of coming down to size. We need to look with humble eyes at ourselves, at our fellow men, and at the miracles of God's creations.

Yes — we need to go to church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
